Motion of support for our comrade victim of sexist abuse in H&M GBC Logistics

Our trade-union organization SUD Culture Solidaires has been informed by our fellow workers of Union Syndicale Solidaires 93 of the situation which a representative from trade-union Sud-Solidaires 93 faces within the company she works for, H&M GBC Logistics.

This employee is subject to sexist abuse – insults, sexual gestures – from other employees of the company, and everyone knows about it. Not only does senior management turn a blind eye to the abuse, but they also try to cover the whole thing up, and to prevent the union rep from speaking out. This is unacceptable.

Trade-union repression therefore goes hand in hand with sexism. This is unfair and infuriating, and we support her and her trade-union wholeheartedly. Women have the right to work and live with dignity and without being harassed. One must never be bullied for saying so loud and clear. Women also have the right to be unionized.

Our trade-union will publicize this intolerable situation. We will participate in all necessary actions so that it ceases immediately.

Stop sexist abuse! Stop bullying those who speak out! Stop anti-union repression!
